PARADISE IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD:

Fairchild Tropical Botanic Gardens

IG: fairchildgarden

Imagine traversing through a tropical rain forest or exploring the landscape of Madagascar, one of the most unique ecosystems in the world. Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden, a recent recipient of USA Today's 10Best Awards 2020 for botanical gardens, has launched Paradise in the Neighborhood with the intention of reintroducing locals to a lush oasis right in their backyard. As many travel plans have been put on hold, Fairchild encourages guests to step into the garden and rediscover a slice of paradise.

From the Richard H. Simons Rainforest, which is covered in bright purple and fuchsia orchids along its many waterfalls and cascades, to the Lin Lougheed Spiny Forest of Madagascar, guests are instantly transported to exotic locations without ever having to leave the comfort of their own city

Sow & Grow September

Plant Club Day

Concept: We have invited our favorite plant societies to come out to the Garden and shine! Think back to your first day in college or maybe high school when all the clubs came out to share what they do and recruit new members...we're doing that! We will also be selling native orchids, orchid restoration kits, vegetable garden kits and more. Our horticulture team will be onsite, as well as, our Master Gardener volunteers to talk with guests and answer questions. Plants! Plants! Plants! Dates: Saturday, September 19th

Dog Date at the Garden

Concept: Bring Fido to the garden for an evening walk around Fairchild. New to September, we will have a specially curated set of vendors onsite to share their knowledge and goodies with visitors. Dates: Garden After Hours | Thursday evenings in September 5:30 – 7:30 pm

Eat. Drink. Garden.

Concept: Al fresco under the stars and trees, enjoy dinner with South Florida's top chefs! Featuring a once a month, one of a kind exclusive dinner experience in the Garden. Two seating each with 30 guests max at the Arts Center courtyard.
