

THINGS TO DO

Things to Do in Miami: March '21

MARCH 8, 2021 · BY KAREN ESCALERA

Standout art glass exhibit from Venice; a valuable resource for all kinds of outdoor activities in Miami, the Everglades, and Naples; the festival for all orchid lovers with a dog bazaar; first look at Phase 1 of the Underline now open; all kinds of live outdoor performances at the Arsht Center, and more, all in Things to Do in March.

The popular Orchid Festival at Fairchild Tropical Gardens is back this month! Called 'Orchids in Bloom' it will span over ten-days, offering a number of live plant demos, educational lectures, and live music, March 12-21, 2021 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.. Thousands of orchids in all shapes have been planted on trees and palms throughout the Tropical Orchid Rainforest featuring award-winning hybrids, popular varieties, and extra topical species.

Orchid festival at Fairchild Tropical Botanic Gardens

After ogling the iconic, tropical flower, groove to the tunes by the Brian Tate Quartet on March 12 from 7-30 – 9PM and enjoy a jazzy evening under the stars with your favorite snacks & beverages. Another special activity on March 18 from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. is the spring edition of the Dog Bazaar. Spoil your pup with a walk in the garden and then meet up with South Florida's best and brightest vendors at the Canine Marketplace. 10901 Old Cutler Road, Coral Gables. Admission is $24.95 for adults, $11.95 for children 6+, and free for Fairchild members. For more HERE.

Dog bazaar featured at orchid festival