CARD TRICKS

Let your kids show you with their magical skills at the Adrienne Arshat Center's Virtual Magic Academy. During the live broadcast, Max Darwin (AKA the Amazing Max) will teach kids magic tricks they can easily perform with simple objects from home, and he'll include plenty of jokes and audience interaction. All your kids will need to prep is a pencil, an assortment of coins, and a deck of cards. By the end of the session, they'll be ready to take the Magician's Oath — because a magician never reveals their secrets. 21 a.m. Saturday, 4/4/21, 8 p.m. Tickets cost $20 to $40. www.adriennearshat.com

UPPER EASTSIDE

FRESH SQUEEZED

If you haven't visited the Selina Gold Dust on the once-ready area of Biscayne Boulevard, you're in for a treat. The Panamanian-based band group took over the former Gold Dust rental and turned it into a hipster-ready hangout that's helping to transform the neighborhood. On Saturday, pop in for the Gold Dust's Juicy Fruit Vinyl Roll & Market, featuring hundreds of records for sale from local vendors. Enjoy bites and cocktails from the on-site Cafe Rush with DJs Mickey Perez, Brother Dan, and Tomi Jones providing the tunes. 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday, at Selina Gold Dust, 7705 Biscayne Blvd., Miami, 305-985-4794; selina.com. Admission is free. www.1013.com

PALMETTO BAY

MARCH TO THE BEAT

A New York Times Critic's Pick, Blvd City Drumbeat follows Edward "Nardie" White, the longtime leader of an after-school community drum corps in Louisville, Kentucky, as he hands his sticks to trainee Albert Shumate. The Drumming State will screen the documentary in its courtyard on Saturday, with a conversation with director Marlon Johnson and South Florida film producer Cathleen Dean to follow. Guests may bring a packed picnic to enjoy during the screening, 6 p.m. Sunday, at the Drumming Estate, 16701 SW 72nd Ave., Miami, 305-235-1558; drummingstate.org. Tickets cost $20 via rsvp.milodparka.com. www.blvdcity.com

DESIGN DISTRICT

STALK MARKET

Whether you're looking for fresh ingredients, cooking ideas, or gifts, head to the Market at Miami Design District on Sunday to explore various local businesses peddling unique goods, complete with live entertainment. Spend a day wandering outside and you'll find locally sourced produce, food influenced by a variety of cultures, one-of-a-kind crafts and creations, and beaucoup other treasures. 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, at Artful Place, 3831 NE 99th Ave., Miami; miamiherald.com. Admission is free. www.1013.com

CORAL GABLES

EARTHY DELIGHTS

Expand your artistic skills and your lungs, as you breathe in the fresh air at Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden's art class, Plein Air in the Garden. Artist and teacher Carlos Gallostra leads the course, teaching attendees how to paint and draw on location, focusing on capturing the beauty of the garden's tropical surroundings. This course is for painters of all levels who want to explore different types of media and approaches to drawing and painting; it consists of a total of seven sessions held each Monday through May 17, 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden, 10901 Old Cutler Rd., Coral Gables; 305-667-1651; fairchildgarden.org. Tickets for the entire course cost $180. www.1013.com

TUE 4/6

CORAL WAY

TRUTH HURTS

Cuban-born, Miami-based artist William Osores explores the concept of identity and its flexibility in "Margins of Truth," his second solo exhibition at Lois Gallery. Through his gestural painting style — which draws inspiration from contemporary artists like Jerry Seinfeld and Gerhard Richter — Osores explores the way identity is influenced by external factors, including one's culture and everyday surroundings. 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through May 22, at Lois Gallery, 2640 SW 28th Ln., Miami, 305-587-5942; loisgallery.com. Virtual reservation required via loisgallery.com. www.1013.com

SEXUAL HEALING

Taste. You've probably heard of it, so why not take this opportunity to find out what it's all about? On Wednesday, the Modern Day Bungalow hosts an "Intro to Tantra" class that aims to open up participants' bodies and minds. Energy coach Michelle Alva will lead the session, which explores new ways to unlock one's creativity and sexual energy. Suggested items to bring along include a yoga mat, a blanket and pillow, and a bottle of water. 7 p.m. Wednesday, at Modern Day, 8020 NE Second Ave., Miami; 786-517-8056; modernday.com. Tickets cost $10 via events.tix.com. www.1013.com
