

THE NEW TROPIC

From Dinner Key to D.C.?

Plus, windstorm woes, backpacks walked back, and restaurant news bites.

By Grace DeWitt

Are you staying cool this Friday?

Since Wednesday, we've been under a heat advisory, something the National Weather Service issues in Miami-Dade when a heat index of 105° F or higher is expected for at least 2 hours. More than just a fact or figure, it's a reminder to be more cautious about your time spent outside. Bump that pickleball meetup into the later hours of the day, keep a water bottle handy while you run around town, and don't hesitate to duck under an awning or tree for some shade while you wait on that bus or Uber.

Now, a look at what else is "hot" around town.

---

Things to do

Wednesday

 Enjoy a free musical celebration on the longest day of the year, with concerts on streets, sidewalks, beaches and parks across the city for Make Music Miami day (Various Locations)

Thursday

 Enjoy the wonders of Fairchild after hours with an evening of 80s music, 80s Miami-themed cuisine, live entertainment, signature cocktails, lawn games, and more (Coral Gables)

---