

The Annual Mango Festival at Fairchild

/ Premier Guide Miami

Saturday and Sunday, July 8 & 9, 2023
10:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

In the heart of South Florida, where tropical fruits thrive and vibrant flavors abound, the annual Mango Festival at Fairchild is set to captivate taste buds and celebrate the highly sought-after King of Tropical Fruit. Scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 8th and 9th, this two-day extravaganza promises to immerse attendees in a mango-filled paradise from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

For nearly three decades, Fairchild has been enchanting visitors with its commitment to showcasing the myriad varieties of mangos that grace its grounds. As home to The Tropical Fruit program and the world's largest mango collection, Fairchild has become synonymous with the luscious fruit.

During the Mango Festival, guests can expect an array of activities and attractions that pay homage to the mango. From shopping for unique mangos grown and harvested on The Fairchild Farm to perusing the Curator's Choice mango trees, there is something to cater to every mango enthusiast's desires. Tastings, cooking demonstrations, and mango-inspired classes will tantalize the senses, while various cool zones and misty areas provide respite from the summer heat.

In addition to indulging in all things mango, attendees can learn more about The Tropical Fruit Program at Fairchild and its prestigious Mango Collection through informative lectures. These presentations will delve into topics such as different mango types, optimal growing techniques, and tips on storing and harvesting the fruit.

What's a festival without delicious food and live entertainment? The Mango Festival has it covered with fresh mango smoothies, specialty mango cocktails, delectable culinary offerings from local vendors, and live music to keep the atmosphere vibrant. Families can let their little ones roam and explore in The Children's Garden while enjoying the shade, and everyone can experience the beauty of exotic butterflies at the Wings of the Tropics exhibit.

For those seeking even more mango-infused delights, the World-Famous Mango Brunch on Sunday, July 9th is not to be missed. With a carefully curated menu created by some of South Florida's finest chefs, this brunch promises to be a feast for the senses. From mango-inspired dishes to mouthwatering pastries and refreshing mango bellinis, this culinary experience will leave guests craving more.

Tickets for the Mango Festival and the Mango Brunch are available for purchase, with discounts for members and limited space for the brunch event. The festival invites everyone to join in celebrating 30 years of mango-infused bliss and to experience the taste of summer in Miami.
