

Things to do in Miami this weekend

 Deirdra Funcheon

Be like Bam. Photo: Nathaniel S. Butler/NBAE/Getty Images

Put on your party pants ... or party shorts, skorts or combination thereof. It's the weekend!

- Here's how to spend it:
- Here's how to spend it:

The Museum of Graffiti hosts a tattoo showcase with complimentary drinks from 6-9pm.

- Free with RSVP.

The Heat's Bam Adebayo hosts his fifth annual basketball clinic for third through 12th graders on Saturday.

- Tickets: $125.

Let's Go Party, a Barbie-inspired dance party, is Saturday at Gramps.

- Tickets: \$15.

The Shōjō's Dojo, which says it's the first sake brewery in Florida, has its grand opening Saturday.

"Something Ancient This Way Comes: Dragons and Mythical Creatures!" is an exhibit with animatronic beasts, plus "explorers' missions and dragon waterquests" for kids at Fairchild Tropical Garden.

- Admission: $11.95 kids, $24.95 adults, $17.95 seniors through Sept. 4.